New Year, New Hopes, New Aspirations

Dear Patrons

Greetings & a very Happy New Year 2016 to all!

The advent of a new year is the time for new resolutions & new hopes for all of us. We make promises to better our lives by getting rid of evils & bringing in more & more positivity & goodness in our lives.

Vimukti is also determined to bring in more vigour in our efforts to brighten up the future of girls living in urban poverty, who otherwise would be forced to live a life of exploitation & despair. This New Year, we plan to extend VGS upto class X & also scale up our post school support program for providing financial help & guidance to deserving girls to pursue vocational training after completing class XII.

We further plan to focus on the quality aspects of classroom practices & arrange professional guidance to the teachers so that learning quotient improves significantly.

Apart from these short term initiatives, we plan to accelerate our efforts towards our long term objective of scaling up Vimukti into an institution which will convert socially & economically underprivileged young girls living below poverty line into educated, confident, self-reliant & financially independent women who will merge smoothly with the mainstream society. This requires us to expand VGS upto class XII & set up a professionally managed vocational center.

2016 will see the first batch of VGS students who joined us in 2004, complete its schooling. They studied in VGS upto class VIII & then shifted to other schools. They will now appear for their class XII Board exams; we wish them all the best.

We hope that you will continue to support our work just as you have done in the past. I request you to spread a word about Vimukti & motivate others to become part of Vimukti family.

Once again, wishing all of you a bright, prosperous, successful & happy new year.

With love & regards,

Lavalina Sogani (Founder Secretary, Vimukti Sanstha)
